Established in 2012 as a program of One Earth Future, Shuraako, meaning “partnership” in Somali, works in conflict-affected environments, connecting investors with promising small and medium enterprises.

Shuraako believes a thriving and resilient private sector creates livelihoods, encourages greater civic participation, and reinforces effective governance, leading to greater peace and stability. We believe that sustainable peace in Somalia is not possible without collaboration and a true partnership between the private sector, community members, the local government, and all other relevant members of Somalia’s society.
